This Manufacturer's Certification Statement ("Statement"), dated January 1, 2010, identifies Botanica Garden Doors manufactured by Fentech, Inc. that may qualify as "Eligible Building Envelope Components" for a tax credit under Section 25C of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (the "2009 Act").

The 2009 Act modifies the tax credit for certain energy efficient components that are purchased and installed from January 1, 2009 through December 31, 2010. The tax law requires that certain requirements be met to qualify for the credit. For example, exterior windows, doors and skylights may qualify for the tax credit if they achieve both a U-Factor of 0.30 or lower and a Solar Heat Gain Coefficient ("SHGC") of 0.30 or lower. The components must also be installed in a dwelling unit in the United States that is owned and used by the taxpayer as the taxpayer's principal residence. The original use of the components must commence with the taxpayer, and the component must be expected to remain in use for at least 5 years.

Based on Section 25C of the Internal Revenue Code as amended by the 2009 Act, as well as IRS Notice 2009-53¹, Fentech has determined, based on ratings certified by the National Fenestration Rating Council (NFRC)², that the following Fentech products with the specified glass types noted have both (i) a U Factor rating of 0.30 or lower and (ii) a SHGC value of 0.30 or lower.³ As a result, we have concluded that each of these product is an "Eligible Building Component" that may qualify for the credit allowed under Section 25C in all climate zones of the United States. Products with special glass options and custom sizes larger than standard do not qualify at this time.

Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have examined this Statement, and to the best of my knowledge and belief, the facts are true, correct and complete.

² NFRC ratings are based on modeling by a third party agency as validated by an independent test lab in compliance with NFRC program and procedural requirements.

³ This data is accurate as of January 1, 2010. Due to ongoing product changes, ongoing testing and certification and changing industry standards and requirements, this data may change over time. This Statement may also be updated periodically to reflect changes to product ratings.
